

Gender equality, climate change and security sector governance: Women leaders addressing climate-related security risks

Join the UK, Canada and Swiss Missions, UN Women, UN DROLSI and DCAF to explore policy entry-points for mainstreaming gender in the future development of United Nations guidance on the role of security sector governance and reform (SSG/R) in addressing climate change. The event will feature stories of women leaders from Colombia, Mali and Yemen directly working on climate, security and gender issues.
