

WEBINAR: Military Gender Advisors (GENADs): Opportunities, Challenges and Ways Forward

On the occasion of the launch of *A Global Review of the Development of Military GENAD Capabilities, join Monash University, DCAF, OSCE-ODIHR, UN Women, and a panel of experts to explore the role of military Gender Advisors (GENADs), the ways in which they contribute to organizational and operational effectiveness, the challenges they face and the opportunities that exist to support their work in facilitating implementation of the Women Peace and Security (WPS) agenda.

WEDNESDAY 11 MAY

9:00 – 10:30am Eastern Time (US & Canada)
15:00 – 16:30 Central European Time
23:00 – 00:30 Australian Eastern Daylight Time

REGISTRATION:

click here
[https://unwomen.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_Vb8mM0vkSDmFNJ4XoZkqIlg]

SPEAKERS:

- LTCOL Dr Lena Kvarving (Head of Education and Training, NCGM)
- Clare Hutchinson (Advisor on Women, Peace and Security)
- LTCOL Per-Roe Petlund (Gender Advisor, Norwegian Armed Forces)
- LTCOL Lausanne Nsengimana Ingabire, Capability Officer and Gender Specialist, Office of Military Affairs, UN Department of Peace Operations (UNDPO)
- Major Jasmina Omerbegović (Gender Advisor to the Chief of the Joint Staff of the Bosnia and Herzegovina Armed Forces)

Simultaneous interpretation: ENGLISH, FRENCH, SPANISH, RUSSIAN, GEORGIAN

*This webinar launches the report A Global Review of the Development of Military GENAD Capabilities, drawing from interviews with current and former GENADs, who have served within or alongside military organisations across the world, and global experts on the development of gender equality within military organisations. This research was undertaken by Monash University and funded by the Australian Department of Defence.